

THE TIME IS RIPE FOR NAPA
-NEW BAR & KITCHEN LAUNCHES IN NORTH LEEDS-

Leeds based, independently owned bar and restaurant operator, Arc Inspirations launches its seventh venue, Napa Bar & Kitchen in north Leeds on Friday 26 October. Taking its name from one of the finest wine regions in the world and located on Street Lane in the heart of Roundhay, Napa will bring 45 jobs to the area.

Following a multi-million pound transformation of the property by Horsforth based architects Kilmartin Plowman & Partners, Napa features a dramatic wine back bar and creative use of wood, steel and leather designed to create an inviting and informal atmosphere.

With six hugely successful, award winning bars and restaurants already within its stable in Headingley, Chapel Allerton and Harrogate, the opening of Napa will see Arc Inspirations strengthen its position as one of the most innovative, independently owned operators in the country. Furthermore, the company is currently investigating potential opportunities in Leeds city centre, Horsforth and Ilkley.

Capitalising on its rather apt name, Napa will offer an extensive range of wines from northern and southern hemispheres to suit every experience and occasion. Sticking to its policy of sourcing food produce locally, the menu consists of comforting breakfasts, gourmet burgers, deli sandwiches, salads, 'share and share alike' platters and classic mains with a contemporary twist. The grills include Napa's signature Kobe burger, the world's most expensive beef from the pampered Japanese Wagyu cattle, which are fed on a diet of grain and beer and massaged regularly with sake to create an intense flavour.

Commenting on the opening of Napa Bar & Kitchen, Arc Inspirations' managing director, Martin Wolstencroft said:

"These are very exciting times for us, we've grown from strength to strength since launching our first bar and restaurant, The Arc, in Headingley in 2000.

"We've always thought Roundhay would be a strong market for us and now we've found the perfect location and team to deliver a mix of enticing drinks, mouth-watering food in vibrant and appealing surroundings.

"We're confident that the Napa will be the new mecca in north Leeds for coffee, conversation, cuisine and cocktails."

Napa Bar & Kitchen, 62 Street Lane, Roundhay, Leeds, LS8 2DQ is open Monday to Sunday 10:00am to 12:00pm. For further information visit www.arcinspirations.com or contact Napa on tel: 01132 371838
